by our own correspondents.

BROADVIEW.

—La Grippe still holds in her firm grasp several of our prominent citizens. There have been no fatal cases here so far.

—Mrs. George Wallace is still at Brandon under the care of Dr. Fleming. She is reported to be much improved and is expected home soon.

—Rev. Wm. Nicholl united in marriage on the 13th inst., Mr. Alexander Colson, of Montreal, and Miss Maggie Munro, of London, Ontario. May peace and joy be with them.

—A. G. Thorburn, M. L. A., returned from Moosomin this morning, where he had been on a visit to his brother in the Assembly J. R. Neff, Esq., and assisting him in the opening of the New Methodist church there.

—Mr. Thorburn has resigned his office of school trustee, as secretary-treasurer of the Agricultural Society and also his position as J. P. Many wish to know what a J. P. means. We have no J. P. now no nearer than twelve or fourteen miles. When any special swearing has to be done he has to come into town. Mr. D. Graham, J. P., did this yesterday. I wish all swearing would wait his arrival.

GREENFELL.

—An excellent musical entertainment was given by the Literary Society in the school-house on Wednesday, 8th inst.

Rev. J. W. Ridd of Waseana with a friend from Greenfell has been spending a week visiting old friends at Summerberry.

Rev. J. M. Harrison of Regina is expected to address a meeting here in the interests of the British Foreign Bible Society on the 27th inst.

The whole neighborhood is mourning the sudden death of Mr. Arthur Frederick Lake, youngest son of Lieut.-Col. Lake. Mr. Lake was a young man of great promise and a great favorite with every one who knew him. He recently went to England on a visit, and contracting a cold, died suddenly in London. The sincere sympathy of every heart and every home is extended to the bereaved parents and friends of a son so noble and beloved.

PHEASANT FORKS.

—The inhabitants of this portion of Assiniboia, while making no pretension to following the fashions very closely, seem at the present time to be under the necessity of being like other people. Several persons are suffering from the attacks of the latest Russian invader—La Grippe. We are glad to say that so far no fatalities have occurred, a few days of stout resistance sufficing to compel a loosening of its grip.

—Through the efforts of the Rev. J. M. Harrison, chairman of this District, this neighborhood is being favored with the services of several of the Methodist ministers from adjoining missions. The Rev. W. Clague, of Waseley, occupied the pulpit at three appointments last Sunday. Not having a minister stationed here this year, the labors of these gentlemen are much appreciated. Mr. Clague spent Monday and Tuesday in pastoral visiting.

INDIAN HEAD.

—Messrs. J. Powell, J. Hooper, J. Harvey, J. Ewart, D. Raiton, W. Braithwaite and T. Donnelly are the members of the municipal council for the present year. They will hold their first meeting on Monday next.

SALTCOATS.

—Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the Foresters' ball was not so well patronized as such events usually are by the inhabitants of Saltcoats, but those who were present spent a very enjoyable evening. The hall was handsomely decorated.

The large attendance at the Annual School meeting last week is an evidence that the residents of Saltcoats are highly interested in school matters. The several reports were read and approved of, after which Mr. Rattray was elected as trustee.

It is reported that the man McIntyre, who was brought from Yorkton and committed to Regina as a vagrant, has been identified as the John Brown who committed murder near Canmore in 1885, and escaped down the Columbia river.

Mr. Borrodale returned from Winnipeg last night, where he had been during the week upon business connected with his office.

Mr. Tweed has been asked by the Lieutenant-Governor to come to Regina to discuss the "present situation." He will leave for the capital early next week. It is to be hoped that the Governor will be convinced of the error of his ways. —Medicine Hat Times.

The Northwest Territories Gazette of Jan. 1st contains notice of the following appointments. To be Justice of the Peace, William Richard Abbott, Esquire, of Maple Creek, Assiniboia. To be Notary Public, Daniel William Kiedle, Esquire, of Langenburg, Assiniboia. To be Fire Guardian, (under the provisions of the Ordinance respecting Prairie and Forest Fires,) George Ness, Esquire, of Pincher Creek, Alberta.

CANADA'S COMIC PAPER.

GRIP begins its thirty-fourth volume with the New Year, which means that this brave little journal has celebrated its seventeenth birthday. When we say—as we can with-out hesitation—that its ability both literary and artistic has been kept up to a uniformly high standard throughout this long period, and that to-day it is as bright as ever, we mention a fact exceedingly creditable, not only to the conductors of GRIP, but also to the Canadian people, without whose appreciation and support this phenomenon of journalism would have been impossible. We call it a phenomenon advisedly, for so far as we are aware, there is not another country of Canada's age, certainly no other Colony—that can boast of a sixteen-year-old Comic Journal. GRIP has well deserved its success. It is not merely a clever and amusing paper, it is also a recognized power which, we are glad to say, always on the right side where questions of moral principle are concerned. It ought to be a pleasure to every Canadian to contribute to the success of such a journal, and the most practical way of doing this is by subscribing. The price is only Two Dollars per year, or if taken in connection with The Progress the price for both will be $2.75. Subscriptions may be sent direct to GRIP, Toronto, or to the office.

TEACHERS.

I have recommended Hayward's Yellow Oil as a cure for toothache. I suffered for several days, and used my stock and found it a wonderful remedy. I had been told that it was a good one, but I had not tried it before. I had been told that it was a good one, but I had not tried it before. I had been told that it was a good one, but I had not tried it before.

Disallowed.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—The Gov-in-Council has disallowed the ordinance passed by the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories in amendment of sub-section six, of section eight, of chapter one, revised ordinances Northwest Territory, relative to the administration of financial offices in Territories. The section in question appoints Messrs. Tweed and Neff, members of the Legislative Assembly, to be an advisory council to the Lieutenant-Governor. The points in which the ordinance is inconsistent with the Northwest Territories Act are as follows: The ordinance requires the advisory council to be appointed by the assembly, while the statute vests the appointment in the Lieutenant-Governor; the ordinance requires the council to consist of two members, while statute says four; the ordinance says that the consent of both members of the advisory council is necessary to official acts of the Lieutenant-Governor, while the statute implies that the Lieutenant-Governor may act on the advice of a majority because it gives him a vote in the council and a casting vote also in case of a tie; the tenure of office prescribed by the ordinance is the pleasure of the assembly, while that prescribed by the statute is the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor.

It is obvious, therefore, that the ordinance is not such as the Assembly is empowered to make in view of the provisions contained in section 13 of the N. W. T. Act, which provides that "no such ordinance shall be so made which is inconsistent with or alters or repeals any provision of any act of the Parliament of Canada in force in the territories." It is equally clear that the two advisory boards, one constituted under the statute of 1888 and another under the ordinance in question cannot be established without complications which would result in a deadlock. The statute requires the Lieutenant-Governor to act with the Advisory Board established under authority of the Parliament, and the ordinance requires him to act only on the advice of two gentlemen appointed by the Assembly. For these reasons the ordinance has been disallowed and the Lieutenant-Governor duly apprised of the fact.

The Dominion Illustrated for January 11 contains the portraits of some of our noted men—Sir Joseph Hickson having the place of honour, while the Hon. P. J. O. Chauveau, once a prominent figure in Canadian public life, and Dr. J. G. Bourinot, the new C. M. G., form an interesting pair. The other features of the number will please the lover of scenery, the antiquary, the enthusiast for industrial progress, and the Canadian patriot, to whatever of these classes he may belong. There is a fine series of New Brunswick views—Grand Falls on the St. John river—a valuable memento of Old Canada—the house in which Vandreuil signed the capitulation of Montreal, an Indian scene on Rainy River, and a fine art picture, "Joan of Arc," by Chateillon. Altogether, it is an excellent number, both in illustrations and letterpress. Price of subscription, $4 a year. Address, Mr. G. E. Desharis, managing-director Dominion Illustrated Publishing Company, 73 St. James street, Montreal.

A BUSINESS REPORT.

Mr. James McArthur, of Brandon & McArthur's Collection Bureau, Brandon, Ont., states: "I have used several bottles of Blacklock Blood Purifier for kidney disorder and find it a wonderful remedy. I had been told that it was a good one, but I had not tried it before. I had been told that it was a good one, but I had not tried it before. I had been told that it was a good one, but I had not tried it before."

FRIDAY, JAN. 17, 1890.

NOT YET UNRAVELLED.

And so it seems Mr. J. R. Neff, M. L. A., did not go to Ottawa after all. The report that he had been called to the capital could scarcely have originated without cause. It may have arisen from the fact that he has been in correspondence with the Ottawa Government, we presume as one of the two members appointed by the majority of the Assembly to advise the Lieutenant Governor. The very fact that he was so appointed presupposes that he would make an effort to unravel the tangle into which the variable action of Governor Royal has placed our Northwest Government affairs. No doubt there was sufficient truth in the report to justify the expectation that there would be some new developments in which Mr. Neff would have a hand. We have reason to believe that Mr. Neff has been invited to take a hand in the Northwest Government, but not on terms consistent with the attitude assumed by the majority of the assembly of which he, jointly with Mr. Tweed, holds the confidence. Doubtless Mr. Tweed has also been approached in a similar manner. If these gentlemen prove true to the trust reposed in them they will not accept positions on a new Advisory Council appointed by the Lieutenant Governor, except on the conditions laid down by the majority. There are no indications that His Honor will meet these conditions, but rather the reverse. As was intimated a fortnight ago in these columns, and now officially published elsewhere, the Interpretation Ordinance passed by the Assembly under which Messrs. Tweed and Neff were legislated to the position of advisors to Lieutenant Governor Royal, has been vetoed. Hence to carry on the Northwest Government His Honor must secure an Advisory Council under the old act till it is amended by the Dominion Parliament, which the latest news from Ottawa indicates will be done at the session opened yesterday. It remains to be seen whether the amendments will be on the lines laid down by the Assembly, who are the people's representatives, or Governor Royal confirmed in his irresponsible and retrogressive action which caused so much difficulty during the recent session of the Assembly. The Government should take warning that the people of the Northwest are not disposed to be trifled with.

JUST SO.

In reference to the recent muddle in the Northwest Council, the Ottawa Free Press says:

"In response to the demand of the Northwest Assembly for an account of how the Dominion grant for Territorial government has been used by him, Lieut. Governor Royal makes his newspapers say that no fault has been found with the way the money has been expended. As Mr. Royal has absolutely refused to furnish an account of his disbursements, it is easy to understand how no fault can be found with his financing. But his refusal to comply with reasonable and legitimate request of the Assembly is sufficient to excite suspicion. If the accounts are all right, why not submit them for the inspection of the people's representatives?"

In the hurry of the holiday season and the time lost on account of lagrippe we overlooked some of the Christmas numbers received.

The Ottawa Citizen had a handsome issue appropriate for the holiday season. The cover illustrated the variety of Canada's winter sports, and the book is embellished with a number of fine engravings. The letterpress is also good.

The Winnipeg Free Press issued a very superior Christmas number. It contained much valuable information about Manitoba and the Northwest, illustrated with engravings of cities, towns and scenes in our western country. It is really the only Christmas issue we have received which described and illustrated the country embraced by its constituency. This makes it all the more valuable both at home and abroad.

The Youth's Companion, published by Perry Mason & Co., of Boston, U. S., sent out a handsome Christmas edition. The engravings, the letterpress, the literary merit and the whole make up plainly indicate that the best talent is employed in its production. The subscription price is $1.75 per annum, and it is well worth the money. Try it for a year.

Dalton McCarthy is an honest man, possessing the courage of his convictions. He sees to what pandering to race and creed must inevitably lead, whether it is done by a Dominion Government or a Provincial one, and like a true patriotic citizen he seeks the adoption of constitutional checks now rather than the use of the ruler's sources of civilization hereafter. The principles set forth so ably and clearly by Mr. McCarthy are taking a firm hold upon the public mind, and they are bound in the near future to triumph over the dishonesty and trickery which have so degraded the party politics of our day.—Barrie Advance

Good citizens are always to oppose the bad with vigor and determination, and a true man is never deterred half so much by the smallness of our numbers as animated by the goodness of our cause. People cannot understand the warmth with which certain people espouse the prohibition movement, when the fact is, the human heart takes to it like the magnet to the pole. All the corrupt suggestions of interest, personal and general, together with all kinds of prejudices begotten of fashion, vanity, interest and pride are not enough at times to keep the soul from asserting its freedom and demanding this great act as the minor or fire man rushes to the air.—Canadian Voice.

The People, a leading Pennsylvania journal writes: Mark these words: This country will never witness a revival in religion, until the church as a whole gets on the right side of the prohibition question. So long as church members vote to open pit-falls to start men on the road to hell, the Lord will pay no heed to the prayers of these hypocrites to save the drunkard; to pull the victims out of the pits the church members help to dig. The prayers of such people are an adoration to the Lord of Hosts.

EARNESTNESS IN DAKOTA.

No wonder there was such a sweeping victory for prohibition in the Dakotas. The following items show the spirit of earnestness that pervade the people. They meant business in the conflict against the saloonist who tried to carry the Dakotas. To carry on the war the man who had no money gave his cow, another gave his pig. A washer-woman rode a long distance to contribute her mite—five dollars. A lady is to-day living on a rag carpet because she gave to the good cause the money she had saved to buy a Brussels with. Many people, because of the drought, are suffering for want of some of the necessities of life. Yet there was not money enough in the treasury of the Liquor League of the United States to buy their votes with. These are samples of the people—heroes and heroines who largely helped to gain Prohibition for ever for the Dakotas, North and South—Canadian voice.

NORTH DAKOTA PROHIBITION.

Since the people of North Dakota voted for constitutional prohibition by a large majority the State Legislature has, almost unanimously, passed a law based on that principle. The "Mail," speaks as follows regarding the new law:—

The prohibition law recently passed by the North Dakota Legislature is said to be the most stringent ever placed on any statute book. It provides that the penalty for selling, offering for sale, or giving away any intoxicating liquors shall be not less than $200, nor more than $1,000, for the first offence, and at least one year's imprisonment for the second. Buyers from licensed druggists must make affidavit as to the use to which they intend to put the liquor purchased by them. All combinations of men for convivial purposes are made unlawful. It is said that the anti-prohibitionists gave the bill their support, hoping that its severity would disgust the people of the State and thus serve their purpose in the end.

VOTE IT DOWN.

The following reasons for voting against the rum traffic, even if sure of defeat, are copied from the Christian Advocate:

1. By doing so you express your opinion of the iniquitous business.
2. You preserve a right sentiment on the subject.
3. Your vote attracts public attention to the question.
4. It is the only way to avoid being a partner in the business and its profits. The license fee is a dividend between the rum-seller and those who license him.
5. Under all forms of license the people have every facility to get drunk, and the young every temptation to drink. License is practical "free run." Prohibition unenforced could be no worse. But it properly defines the business and keeps our hands clear of the price of blood.
6. But "no license" does greatly embarrass and restrict the rum traffic, socially, and financially and politically, even when it is feebly enforced. If not, why does the rum interest—including the brewers—make such desperate efforts and pour out rum, and beer, and countless sums of money to defeat it?
7. Voting when success is uncertain, steadily and persistently, year after year, is the only way to make success possible and certain, and permanent.

Here is what a Michigan paper says about high license:—Trying to abolish or diminish the evils of the liquor traffic by making the whiskey seller pay a high license is like muzzling a mad dog's tail to prevent hydrophobia. The bite is on the other end. The only sure remedy is to kill the dog.

A WINTER'S TALE.

Last winter my little girl caught a severe cold which lasted a long season. I doctored with everything I could get but to no avail. Finally I got Hayward's Peppermint Balsam and gave her two doses which improved her, and in a week she was entirely cured by its use.
